

As a Radio Amateur I feel that it is very important to maintain the code requirements. In some difficult situations CW (Morse code) is the only method of communications which is practical. To eliminate the personal that is capable of using this method is a mistake.